Abstract

Social Media Presence

Julia Smith - Sample has an above average social media footprint. Julia posts infrequently and the latest post was on Feb 11, 2025 on Twitter. Julia has a below average number of followers on social media.

Content Analysis

Julia talks mostly about petsmart and speaks about this in a positive manner. Julia's sentiment has been trending up over the past 2 years.

Digital Footprint

Julia Smith - Sample has an above average number of flagged posts.

Flagged Post Summary AI*

Julia expresses deep frustration with the current political landscape, feeling that progressives have shifted so far left that she no longer recognizes her former party, questioning who they truly represent. Her tone reveals anger and disillusionment, especially towards supporting groups she sees as problematic. She shares personal struggles, highlighting her journey from a suicide attempt last year to her current resilience, reminding herself to keep going. Julia adopts a confrontational and provocative voice, using metaphorical language like comparing abortion to murder and imagining harm in exaggerated terms. Her posts reveal a mix of dark humor, emotional vulnerability, and disdain for certain social and political issues, along with moments of lightheartedness and admiration for simple pleasures like watching Family Guy or shooting guns. She also openly discusses her frustrations with coworkers and her curiosity about recreational drugs, indicating a complex blend of anger, nostalgia, and a desire for escapism. Her overall tone is candid, intense, and often rebellious, reflecting her turbulent experiences and strong opinions.

Progressives have gone so far left I no longer identify with the party I thought was for the working class. I'm not even sure who they represent anymore. Is it criminals, illegal aliens, transgenders, only BIPOC people? It's really staggering to think people support this.
